The Lotus Eaters

Emily Clements

Publisher: Hardie Grant

Format: Paperback

Page extent: 320pp

Publication date: February 2020

Rights held: World

A gripping memoir of sex, self-worth, female friendship and what it means to be a young woman today. Since childhood, Emily Clements' sense of self had always been shaped by the opinions of others and the need to be liked. When a stand-off with her best friend sees nineteen-year-old Emily stranded in Vietnam, she is alone for the first time and adrift in a new environment. With seemingly nothing to lose, she makes the biggest decision of her life – to stay. But Emily's attempts to bridge a yawning loneliness spur a downward spiral of recklessness, as she hurtles from one sexual encounter to the next. It will take a truly terrifying experience for her to understand that sex is both a weapon and a wound in her battle for self-worth and empowerment.

AUTHOR

Emily Clements is a 27-year-old writer based in Melbourne. Her non fiction has been shortlisted for the Feminartsy Memoir Prize, the Ada Cambridge Prize and highly commended in the Scribe Nonfiction Prize. Her fiction has been twice shortlisted for the Rachel Funari Prize and earned the Melbourne Young Writers Award. She is a former editor for Voiceworks and Visible Ink. The Lotus Eaters is her first book.

Paris or Die

Jayne Tuttle

Publisher: Hardie Grant

Format: Paperback

Publication date: February 2020

Rights held: World

Paris. The beauty. The grime. The colours and thoughts and songs and sounds and children and dogs. The taste of strawberries, the sky, first métro, last métro, the bells, the dreams ...

The city of light, it seems, has its own plans for Jayne. Drawn there in an entirely unforeseen way, she finds herself in a vibrant and dizzying neighbourhood, living in a former monastery, studying at a famous theatre school, falling in love with a Frenchman too beautiful to be real. She will forget her past and disappear into the culture if it kills her. And one strange night, it nearly does.

AUTHOR

Sharp, funny and unflinchingly honest, Jayne Tuttle's writing lifts you off the page and into a Paris far beyond the postcards. Paris or Die is a headlong plunge into not just life in Paris, but life itself.

Jayne Tuttle is a writer who splits her time between France and Australia. After graduating from the Lecoq Theatre School, she lived in Paris for more than a decade, working internationally as an actor and writer and publishing stories about life in Paris in newspapers, guides and magazines. She currently works for Paris advertising agencies as a bilingual copywriter.

My Tidda, My Sister

Marlee Silva

Publisher: Hardie Grant Travel

Format: Hardback

Publication date: September 2020

Rights held: World

Tidda means sister. And tiddas are stronger together.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and society has existed on this continent for millennia. It's a culture that manifests itself as the ultimate example of resilience, strength and beauty. It's also a culture that has consistently been led by its women. My Tidda, My Sister shares the experiences of many Indigenous women and girls, brought together by author and host of the Tiddas 4 Tiddas podcast, Marlee Silva. The voices of First Nations' women that Marlee weaves through the book provide a rebuttal to the idea that 'you can't be what you can't see'. For non-Indigenous women, it demonstrates the diversity of what success can look like and offers an insight into the lives of their Indigenous sisters and peers. Featuring colourful artwork by artist Rachael Sarra, this book is a celebration of the Indigenous female experience through truth-telling. Some stories are heart-warming, while others shine a light on the terrible realities for many Australian Indigenous women, both in the past and in the present. But what they all share is the ability to inspire and empower, creating a sisterhood for all Australian women.

AUTHOR

Marlee Silva is a 24-year-old Gamilaroi and Dughutti woman based in Sydney. She is the founder of Tiddas 4 Tiddas, a social media initiative and podcast, which is dedicated to celebrating Indigenous women and girls through storytelling. The Tiddas 4 Tiddas Instagram account was set up in 2018 as a way of continuing the 2018 NAIDOC theme 'Because of her, we can', and has already attracted more than 28,000 followers in just over a year. Marlee now hosts the Tiddas 4 Tiddas podcast through Mamamia, where she interviews inspiring Indigenous women who are working to change the world, one day at a time. Marlee has previously been published as a contributor in Anita Heiss' anthology Growing Up Aboriginal in Australia, and in various online publications with her poetry and non-fiction work. Together with her sister Keely, Marlee was a finalist for the 2019 Human Rights Awards, and also features in the January 2020 issue of Australia's marie claire magazine in support of the Uluru Statement from the Heart.

Night Train to Varanasi

Sean Doyle

Publisher: Bad Apple Press

Format: Paperback

Publication date: August 2020

Rights held: World

Travel writer and editor Sean Doyle has loved India for decades, so when his first-born, Anna, finishes high school, they set off on a two-month trip. She wants an adventure; he wants a holiday. But India is no cakewalk, especially for women: he's nervous. Night Train to Varanasi showcases Sean's ability to reflect on his lived experience, shape it into a compelling narrative, and write in such a way that the particulars of his life become universals we can all relate to. He speaks for all of us when he describes the emotional rollercoaster rides that comprise parenting, ageing, the challenges of India and life in general, and his hopes for his child. Blending erudition, humour and paternal angst, this is a beautifully nuanced exploration of a father–daughter relationship set against the backdrop of one of the world's most intense cultural experiences. A compelling and insightful reading experience.

'Every parent wants to give their child the world. Sean Doyle gave his daughter India. It's a jewel of a book.' – Steve Biddulph, Raising Girls & Boys

AUTHOR

After completing a BA (Hons) degree at Sydney University, Sean Doyle misspent his twenties travelling the Asian, especially Indian, road. He sought redemption by writing Beyond Snake Mountain: A journey in Rajasthan (HarperCollins, New Delhi, 1991). In his thirties, married with kids, he was an English-language teacher, then a travel journalist. He's now a writer and editor – and an empty-nester. When not back on the road, hogging the slow lane, he lives in Northern NSW, where he loves to bodysurf and cook aspirational curries.

Fire Country

Victor Steffensen

Publisher: Hardie Grant Travel

Format: Paperback Fiction

Publication date: February 2020

Rights held: World

Delving deep into the Australian landscape and the environmental challenges we face, Fire Country is a powerful account from Indigenous land management expert Victor Steffensen on how the revival of cultural burning practices, and improved 'reading' of country, could help to restore our land. From a young age, Victor has had a passion for traditional cultural and ecological knowledge. This was further developed after meeting two Elders, who were to become his mentors and teach him the importance of cultural burning. Developed over many generations, this knowledge shows clearly that Australia actually needs fire. Moreover, fire is an important part of a wholistic approach to the environment, and when burning is done in a carefully considered manner, this ensures proper land care and healing.

For every copy sold, Hardie Grant will donate $1 to Firesticks, which empowers Indigenous fire management practitioners to revive cultural burning.

AUTHOR

Victor Steffensen is an Indigenous writer, filmmaker, musician and consultant applying traditional knowledge values in a contemporary context, through workshops and artistic projects. He is a descendant of the Tagalaka people through his mother's connections from the Gulf Country of north Queensland. Much of Victor's work over the past 27 years has been based on the arts and reviving traditional knowledge values – particularly traditional burning – through mentoring and leadership, as well as on-ground training with Aboriginal communities and many non-Indigenous Australians. He is also the co-founder of the National Indigenous Fire Workshops, which have so far been hosted in Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria. Victor has also connected with First Nations communities in California, Canada and the Sámi people of Scandinavia, sharing cultural knowledge practices related to caring for country.

*A Year in the Mud
and the Toast and the Tears: My (Semi)
Rural Life*

Georgie Brooks

Publisher: Bad Apple Press

Format: Paperback

Publication date: February 2020

Rights held: World

After buying an old cottage in the Adelaide Hills, Georgie and her young family are transfixed with dreams of becoming hobby farmers, tending chooks, sitting by log fires, growing their own veggies and generally immersing themselves in the joys of nature. However, a stubborn cow named Ginger, acres of mud, a feral crop of artichokes, the coldest winter of the decade and a husband whose job means he is away from home most of the week but leaves him time to repeatedly bog the tractor on the weekends does not make their introduction to rural living ideal. Surely things can only get better from here... ?

For anyone who has either made the escape from city living or dreams of doing so, A Year in the Mud and the Toast and the Tears is an entertaining and humorous story about a tree change with more than a rocky start.

AUTHOR

Georgie Brooks grew up in Adelaide and studied law. She practised as a solicitor where the gossip was incredible but the time sheets were not. Since then Georgie has worked as a university researcher, policy wonk in the areas of electricity, water and climate change, a stay at home mother and a hobby farmer. Her hobbies include gardening, reading and writing (also eating, drinking, reading the internet and mindlessly following social media feeds). She currently excels in driving her children to various activities and then staying to watch and support while they pretend they don't know who she is. She is at present a secondary school teacher, while trying to become a truffle farmer and train her dogs to hunt for truffles. Georgie lives in the Adelaide Hills with her husband and two children.

Stop Missing the Point

Peta Kelly

Publisher: KMD Books

Format: Paperback

Page extent: 322 pp

Publication date: January 2020

Rights available: World

Does your Chanel bag make you less soulful? Are others less woke just cos they don't care about your cause? Do you really know what life is like for the rich person in business class? Are you trying so hard to be good and noble that you've become a fun sponge?

Multi-creative Peta Kelly inspired a generation to live, lead, earn and give more consciously. But after clinging to her identity as a planet lovin' super conscious world changer, she came down from some kinda 'new age amnesia' - with some realisations. Living consciously can become an excuse to be a judgey ass. A lot of game changers are actually miserable. It's time for a new kind of medicine, different to Ayahuasca or Cacao, eye-gazing or tantric touch, or that random elixir you got when you walked out of your breath work treatment in Sedona. It comes in a fancy little reusable mosaic cup and it tastes even more delicious than organic golden milk extra turmeric. It's called-Lightening the f*"* up."very cool, very rad Earth Is Hiring .. Let me tell you, this is lit!"

AUTHOR

Peta Kelly is a renowned Speaker, thought pioneer & leader for the next generation of conscious millennials. Author of such books as Earth to Kids, and Stop Missing The Point.

Beautiful Unique Faces

Anita East

Publisher: KMD Books

Format: Paperback

Publication date: September 2020

Rights available: World

A vital message for our time, Beautiful Unique Faces by Anita East cuts through the noise in our heads to get to the truth of our beauty. Thanks to increasing pressure to look beautiful from social media, influencers, friends, society and even our own self-expectations, women and girls are in the stranglehold of a sickening mental health crisis.

While Botox and injectables aren't new, their availability, price point and the relentlessness of Instagram has given women across the world a skewed idea of what's both aspirational and attainable in facial beauty. In Beautiful Unique Faces, Anita reveals the frightening changes she's witnessed in female demands for cosmetic enhancements, sharing case studies and personal anecdotes from inside the treatment room. More importantly, she explains how women can find and appreciate their Unique Facial Feature as well as how to avoid becoming another Pretty Ugly Face.

Join Anita as she rips apart society's expectations of perfection and shares her proven formula for becoming happier and more beautiful in your own skin.

AUTHOR

Anita East wears three much loved and firmly fitting hats. Aesthetic Medicine expert, performer and author. First and foremost, she is the author of Beautiful Unique Faces. She is also the Managing Director and Clinical Director (Cosmetic Nurse Practitioner) of Anita East Medispa.

Skinside Out

Robyn McAlpine

Publisher: KMD Books

Format: Hardcover

Publication date: October 2020

Rights available: World

SKINSIDE OUT is a book about beauty and the science of how skin works, giving you insight into how your skin condition is a manifestation of your thoughts, stresses, diet, gut health and environment. It's not an infomercial begging you to buy the latest 'must have' products, nor is it a text book guaranteed to provoke glazed eyes by the end of chapter one. Instead, you'll embark on a fun-filled, informative journey that will empower you to make healthy skin choices for life, with a newfound love and appreciation for the humble skin cell and the skin you're in.

You'll laugh, you'll learn, and your body will love you from the SKINSIDE OUT.

AUTHOR

Robyn has spent over 15 years working as a corneotherapist and expert skin therapist in the cosmetic and beauty industry. For the last 10 years she has been hands on in her own successful skin therapy clinic, SkintifiX, based in Newcastle NSW. In this time she has come to learn that not everything we are taught about skin is true and that most of our education comes from online blogs, well meaning (but mostly skin naïve) social media influencers and magazines, all advertising a product with the end goal to sell you something. Her book aims to educate and empower all readers.

Emotional Infertility

Leah Lloyd

Publisher: KMD Books

Format: Paperback

Publication date: April 2019

Rights available: World

Leah Lloyd has had an interest in fertility from early in her career. By writing this book she gives readers the opportunity to emotionally heal. She shares the processes, clearing techniques, tapping scripts, meditations and insights that have helped her clients during their personal fertility journey. Emotions can become big and overwhelming particularly when going through something as significant and difficult as infertility, so it can be very helpful to have someone to talk through the process with. There are also journaling activities at the end of each chapter to help you positively heal.

To further enhance the healing experience Leah has lovingly created a beautiful Emotional Infertility Companion Workbook to use while reading this book.

AUTHOR

Leah is a healer and author. She has published three books - 'Emotional Infertility', 'Emotional Infertility Workbook' and 'Using Positivity to Make a Better Life'.

Her services include Reiki, Forensic Healing, Meditation, Essential Oils, AromaTouch, and Card Readings.

With over fourteen years of experience in nursing Leah realised there was often more 'going on behind the scenes' with conditions that weren't able to be identified or managed traditionally, leading to an interest in alternative therapies.
