THE SPLINTER IN THE SKY
July 2023

After a thousand years of war, the Holy Vaalbaran Empire has surrendered to the Ominirish Republic. There is finally peace—even if that peace is just an illusion. This means little to Enitan Ijebu, a citizen of Koriko, a country ruthlessly annexed by Vaalbara in her childhood. Enitan works as a scribe, but all she wants is to quit her day job, expand her fledgling tea hobby into a business, and support her brilliant sibling, Xiang, who is studying to become an architect. Despite increasingly harsh Vaalbaran military law, Enitan and Xiang have carved out a happy little life within their Korikese community. But then Xiang goes missing, and Enitan realizes their disappearance is tied to something sinister within Vaalbara that reaches the highest political levels. She approaches her lover, Koriko's territory governor Ajani, for help, but when that ends in tragedy, Enitan must volunteer herself as a political prisoner, heading to the heart of the Vaalbaran capital with only her tea tray as a weapon. To stay alive and find Xiang, she will have to use her tea ceremonies as an opportunity to glean political secrets, but what she learns may upend Vaalbara and her world forever.

SILVER UNDER NIGHTFALL (Reaper #1)
September 2022

Remy Pendergast is many things: the only son of the Duke of Valenbonne (though his father might wish otherwise), an elite bounty hunter of rogue vampires, and an outcast among his fellow Reapers. His mother was a subject of gossip even before she eloped with a vampire, giving rise to rumors that Remy is a half-vampire himself. Remy's whole life, his father has been shaping him into a weapon to fight for the kingdom of Aluria, though it barely tolerates him in return. When a terrifying new breed of vampire is sighted outside of the city, Remy prepares to investigate alone. But then he encounters the shockingly warmhearted vampire heiress Xiaodan Song and her infuriatingly arrogant fiancé, vampire lord Zidan Malekh, who may hold the key to defeating the creatures—though he knows associating with them won't do his reputation any favors.

When he's offered a spot alongside them to find the truth about the mutating virus, now known as the Rot, Remy faces a choice. It's one he's certain he'll soon regret. But as the three face dangerous hardships during their journey, Remy develops fond and complicated feelings for the couple. He begins to question what he holds true about vampires, as well as the story behind his own family legacy. As the Rot continues to spread across the kingdom, Remy must decide where his loyalties lie: with his father and the kingdom he's spent his life defending, or the vampires who might just be the death of him.

COURT OF WANDERERS (Reaper #2)

April 2024

Remy Pendergast, vampire hunter, and his unexpected companions, royal vampires Lord Zidan Malekh and Lady Xiaodan Song, are on the road through the kingdom of Aluria again after a hard-won first battle against the formidable Night Empress, who threatens to undo a fragile peace between humans and vampires. Xiaodan, severely injured, has lost her powers to vanquish the enemy's new superbreed of vampire, but if the trio can make it to Fata Morgana, the seat of Malekh's court—dubbed “the Court of Wanderers”—there is hope of nursing her and bringing them back. En route to the Third Court, Remy crosses paths with his father, the arrogant, oftentimes cruel Lord of Valenbonne. He also begins to suffer strange dreams of the Night Empress, whom he has long suspected to be Ligaya Pendergast, his own mother. As his family history unfolds during these episodes, which are too startlingly close to reality to be coincidence, he realizes that she is no ordinary vampire—and that he may end up having to choose between the respective legacies of his parents. Posing as Malekh and Xiaodan's human familiar, Remy contends with Aluria's intimidating vampire courts and a series of gruesome murders with their help—and more, as the three navigate their relationship. But those feelings and even the trio's extraordinary collective strength will be put to the test as each of them unleashes new powers in combat at what may prove the ultimate cost.

THE REFORMATORY
October 2023

Set in Jim Crow Florida, The Reformatory tells the story of young Robert Stephens Jr., who for a trivial scuffle with a white boy is sent to The Gracetown School for Boys, a segregated reformatory that is a chamber of horrors, and is haunted by the boys that have died there. Determined to escape before he becomes a haint after falling victim to the school's Warden, Robert enlists the help of the school's haints, but the dead have their own motivations. A riveting novel of historical fiction and social horror, this is Due's masterpiece and an elegy for the great-uncle her family lost to the Dozier School for boys that this is inspired by.

UNKINDNESS OF MAGICIANS (The Unseen World #1)

September 2017

In the Unseen World some magicians will sacrifice anything or anyone for power. Set in a world much like ours where standing is governed by magic, and social status is governed by magical duels. But the power of magic is fading, and the magicians don't know it yet. Well, most of the magicians don't. Enter Sydney: A new duelist of incredible power. That's where the House of Shadows comes in. See, the thing that feeds the magic is that each of the Houses gives their firstborn to the House of Shadows. Sacrifices, really. But sometimes, instead of giving up their own child, they buy one. (This is where Sydney came from.) And as we all know, if you want to do magic, you have to be willing to cut out your own liver for power. Cutting out someone else's won't work. Most of the magicians in the Unseen World don't know that part. Heads of Houses do. Some of them don't like it. But the House of Shadows doesn't just sacrifice the children. Some of them it trains into magicians themselves. It's not happy about the weakening state of magic, and it has plans to stop it. An Unkindness of Magicians is a magical thriller of conspiracies and dark plots from the critically acclaimed Kat Howard.

Kat Howard is a writer of fantasy, science fiction, and horror who lives and writes in New Hampshire. Her short fiction has been nominated for the World Fantasy Award, performed on NPR, and anthologized in year's best and best of volumes. In the past, she's been a competitive fencer and a college professor. Her debut novel, Roses and Rot was released from Saga Press in May of 2016, and was followed by another novel in summer 2017, An Unkindness of Magicians, and a short fiction collection, A Cathedral of Myth and Bone, in 2018, both also from Saga. SLEIGHT OF SHADOWS (The Unseen World #2)

After taking down the source of the corruption of the Unseen World, Sydney is left with almost no magical ability. Feeling estranged from herself, she is determined to find a way back to her status as one of the world's most dangerous magicians. Unfortunately, she needs to do this quickly: the House of Shadows, the hell on earth that shaped her into who she was, the place she sacrificed everything to destroy, is rebuilding itself. "The House of shadows sits on bones. All of the sacrifices, all of the magicians who died in Shadows, they're buried beneath the foundations. Bones hold magic." The magic of the Unseen World is acting strangely, faltering, bleeding out from the edges.

Determined to keep the House of Shadows from returning to power and to defeat the magicians who want nothing more than to have it back, Sydney turns to extremes in a desperate attempt to regain her sacrificed magic. She is forced to decide what she will give up and what she will lose and whether what must be destroyed is not only the House of Shadows, but the Unseen World itself.

THE WILL OF THE MANY

May 2023

Vis, the adopted son of Magnus Quintus Ulcisor, a prominent senator within the Hierarchy, is trained to enter the famed Catenan Academy to help Ulcisor learn what is hidden agenda of the remote island academy. Secretly, he also wants Vis to discover what happened to his brother who died at the academy, further, he's sure the current Principalis of the academy, Quintus Veridius Julii, a political rival, knows much more than he's revealing. The Academy's vigorous syllabus is a challenge Vis is ably suited to meet, but it is the training in the use of Will, a practice that Vis finds abhorrent, that he must learn in order to excel at the Academy. Will – a concept that encompasses their energy, drive, focus, initiative, ambition and vitality – can be voluntarily 'ceded' to someone else. A single recipient can accept ceded Wills from multiple people, and so on, growing in power towards superhuman levels. Within the hierarchy your level of Will, or legal rank, determines how you live or die. And there are those who are determined to destroy this hierarchal system, as well as those in the Academy who use it to gain dominance in international bestselling author James Islington's (The Licanius trilogy) wonderfully crafted new epic fantasy series.

James Islington was born and raised in southern Victoria, Australia. His influences growing up were the stories of Raymond E. Feist and Robert Jordan, but it wasn't until later, when he read Brandon Sanderson's Mistborn series - followed soon after by Patrick Rothfuss' Name of the Wind - that he was finally inspired to sit down and write something of his own. He now is the international bestselling author of the Licanius trilogy comprised of The Shadow of What Was Lost, An Echo of Things to Come, and The Light of All That Falls. Islington lives with his wife and two children on the Mornington Peninsula in Victoria.

AMONG THIEVES (Tales of Thamorr #1)

September 2021

Within only a year's time, Ryia Cautella has earned herself the title of the Butcher of Carrowick. She is the quickest, deadliest blade in the dockside city's criminal circles, not to mention the sharpest tongue. But Ryia Cautella is not her real name. In her trade as a hired assassin, Ryia often contends with powerful Adepts—either Sensors, who detect even the smallest physical aberrations and threats, or Kinetics, who can manipulate matter. Without exception, young Adepts are brought to the formidable Guildmaster, the ruler of the five kingdoms of Thamorr, and eventually sold off to new owners in an annual auction. A deadly secret has kept Ryia on the run for the past six years, but she now has the opportunity to venture right into the Guildmaster's stronghold and win back her freedom. Against every instinct she has, it's not a path she can walk alone. Forced to team up with a crew of miscreants, smugglers, and thieves, she knows her plan must go flawlessly. Unfortunately for Ryia, her new allies are just as selfish as she is, and they all have plans of their own.

BLACK GUY DIES FIRST: Black Horror Cinema from Fodder to Oscar

February 2023

The Black Guy Dies First explores the wild, wicked, waggish journey of Blacks in modern horror cinema, from the fodder epitomized by Spider Baby to the cinematic heights of Get Out and beyond. It discusses the themes, tropes, and traits that have come to characterize Black roles in horror since 1968, a year in which race made national headlines in iconic moments like: the Kerner Commission indicting “White racism” for U.S. social ills in February; enactment of the 1968 Civil Right Act and Martin Luther King Jr.’s assassination in April; Olympic medalists Tommie Smith and John Carlos raising their “Black Power” fists in October; and Star Trek airing American television’s first interracial kiss in November.

Dr. Robin R. Means Coleman is Northwestern's vice president and associate provost for diversity and inclusion, chief diversity officer, and the Ida B. Wells. An internationally prominent and award-winning scholar, Dr. Coleman’s work focuses on media studies and the cultural politics of Blackness. April 2022

The great city of Tova is shattered. The sun is held within the smothering grip of the Crow God's eclipse, but a comet that marks the death of a ruler and heralds the rise of a new order is imminent. The Meridian: a land where magic has been codified and the worship of gods suppressed. How do you live when legends come to life, and the faith you had is rewarded? As sea captain Xiala is swept up in the chaos and currents of change, she finds an unexpected ally in the former Priest of Knives. For the Clan Matriarchs of Tova, tense alliances form as far-flung enemies gather and the war in the heavens is reflected upon the earth. And for Serapio and Naranpa, both now living avatars, the struggle for free will and personhood in the face of destiny rages. How will Serapio stay human when he is steeped in prophecy and surrounded by those who desire only his power? Is there a future for Naranpa in a transformed Tova without her total destruction? June 2022

The port city of Hainak is alive: its buildings, its fashion, even its weapons. But, after a devastating war and a sweeping biotech revolution, all its inhabitants want is peace, no one more so than Yat Jyn-Hok a reformed-thief-turned-cop who patrols the streets at night. Yat has recently been demoted on the force due to “lifestyle choices” after being caught at a gay club. She’s barely holding it together, haunted by memories of a lover who vanished and voices that float in and out of her head like radio signals. When she stumbles across a dead body on her patrol, two fellow officers gruesomely murder her and dump her into the harbor.

Unfortunately for them, she wakes up. Resurrected by an ancient power, she finds herself with the new ability to manipulate life force. Quickly falling in with the pirate crew who has found her, she must race against time to stop a plague from being unleashed by the evil that has taken root in Hainak.
