THE SADDEST GIRL ON THE BEACH By Heather Frese

(offered for English Language Rights only; for translation contact: andrea@harveyklinger.com)

Grieving after her father's death, a young woman seeks solace in an Outer Banks beach town in North Carolina where her best friend's family runs a small inn. The family welcomes Charlotte with chowder dinners and a cozy room, but her friend Evie has a looming life change of her own, and soon Charlotte seeks other attractions to navigate her grief. Will she, like in some television movie, find her way back through a romance, or are there larger forces at play? Heather Frese, winner of the Lee Smith Novel Prize and author of The Baddest Girl on the Planet, sets Charlotte on a beautifully rendered course through human frailty, unrelenting science, and the awesome forces of the Carolina coast.

THE SMOKE IN OUR EYES By James Grady

"Grady is a master of intrigue." —John Grisham

A cinematic, clock-ticking coming of age saga about love, vengeance, corruption, and justice by the acclaimed author of Six Days of the Condor. In Montana, 1959, the "year the music died," a fatal car accident shatters ten-year-old Lucas's world; crime, vengeance, humor, and heroism become the backdrop against which he grows up.

LAST DAYS IN PLAKA By Henriette Lazaridis

The Talented Mr. Ripley by way of Elena Ferrante, Lazaridis explores the lies at the heart of an old woman's identity and the desperation of a young woman's struggle to belong. Greek-American Anna works at an Athens gallery by day and spends her evenings hanging onto Irini's tales of a glamorous past— an estranged daughter, lost wealth, and the earthquake damage to her noble home. As the two women prepare for a pilgrimage to Patmos, Anna sinks deeper into Irini's stories, desperate for revelation of her own and driven by a sense that time is running out. Lazaridis is the author of The Clover House and Terra Nova.

HELLO DOWN THERE By Michael Parker

(offered English Language Rights; for translation contact: adam@joyharrisliterary.com)

- PW: "This is Southern gothic intrigue and eccentricity at its best. Rich, compassionate, and memorable."
- Library Journal: "Parker joins the ranks of outstanding Southern novelists...a set of characters and events worthy of Flannery O'Connor."

Haunted by a secret tragedy, Edwin, son of the richest family in a small Southern town, fights to overcome his addiction to morphine and face the truth that his parents have worked to obscure. Redemption comes in the form of a young woman—the daughter of a poor farmer—and a couple of the town's most interesting outcasts. Since this lauded 1993 debut, Parker is the author of seven novels and three collections of stories and has received numerous career-achievement awards: the Hobson Award for Arts and Letters, the North Carolina Award for Literature, the R. Hunt Parker Award, and the 2020 Thomas Wolfe Prize, and three-time winner of the O. Henry Prize. Parker has published short fiction and nonfiction in the Washington Post, the New York Times, Oxford American, Runner's World, Men's Journal, and more.

HOLDING ON TO NOTHING

By Elizabeth Chiles

- Booklist: "Shelburne's stunning debut novel is a long trip into small-town Tennessee. . .riveting, touching, heart-wrenching, tragic, and beautiful." --
- The Millions: One of the Most Anticipated Books of Fall 2019
- The Week: One of the 25 Books to read in 2019
- Southern Independent Booksellers Alliance: Okra Pick
- The Writer: One of the 5 Hottest Debuts of 2019

Lucy Kilgore has her bags packed, ready to escape her rural Tennessee upbringing. But a drunken mistake forever tethers her to the town and one of its least-admired residents. Together, these two young people work to form a family, though neither has any idea how to accomplish that, and the odds are against them in a place with little to offer other than bluegrass music, tobacco fields, and a Walmart full of beer and firearms for the hunting season. Their path is harrowing, but these are characters to love, and readers will root for their success in a novel so riveting that it's impossible to stop reading until you know whether this family will survive.

BEAUTY IS A VERB

By Sheila Black; Jennifer Bartlett; Michael Northen

- ALA: Notable Poetry Book
- ALA: Outstanding Book of the Year
- ★ PW (starred review): "This powerful anthology attempts to--and succeeds at--intimately showing disability through the lenses of poetry. What emerges from the book as a whole is a stunningly diverse array of conceptions of self and other."

A groundbreaking and provocative collection of intimately profound poems (Larry Eigner, Josephine Miles, Amber DiPietra, Rusty Morrison, and more) that present disability's difficulty, challenge, and pride--all the while exploring the triumph of the human condition. Each poem is accompanied by a personal essay that creates a window into each poet's whys and wherefores. Black, who has a genetic bone condition is the author of over 40 books for children and young adults and two poetry collections. Bartlett is a cofounder of Zoeglossia, a literary organization that acts as a community for poets with disabilities. Northen edits Wordgathering, A Journal of Disability and Poetry and for over 40 years he has taught adults with physical disabilities, women on public assistance, prisoners, and rural and inner-city children.
